Technology has advanced dramatically over the years

By Noelle Granger, Kandace McDaniel,
Madison Huse, and Kelsey Wiggins

From the chalkboard to the promethean board and from the slide rule to the calculator, technology has really changed over the past 75 years.

The first known use of the chalkboard was around 1936. Some of the disadvantages of the chalkboard are the restricted space and the horrible chalk dust.

Joshua Guest said, "I enjoy not having to wash my hands after every class." With the many advances in technology, the Promethean board is one of these.

The promethean board is an interactive white board that allows the teacher and the student to become more interacted with their assignments. Some of the advantages of the promethean board include less stress on the teacher and student, students are able to print out the notes taken in class, it is attractive to visual learners, and allows the student to see complex 3-D objects that teachers could never even dream about drawing.

Stephanie Burton said, "The key to making technology effective is finding a good balance among the technology, the students learning styles, and repetitive computational practice."

Although the promethean board has its many advantages, it

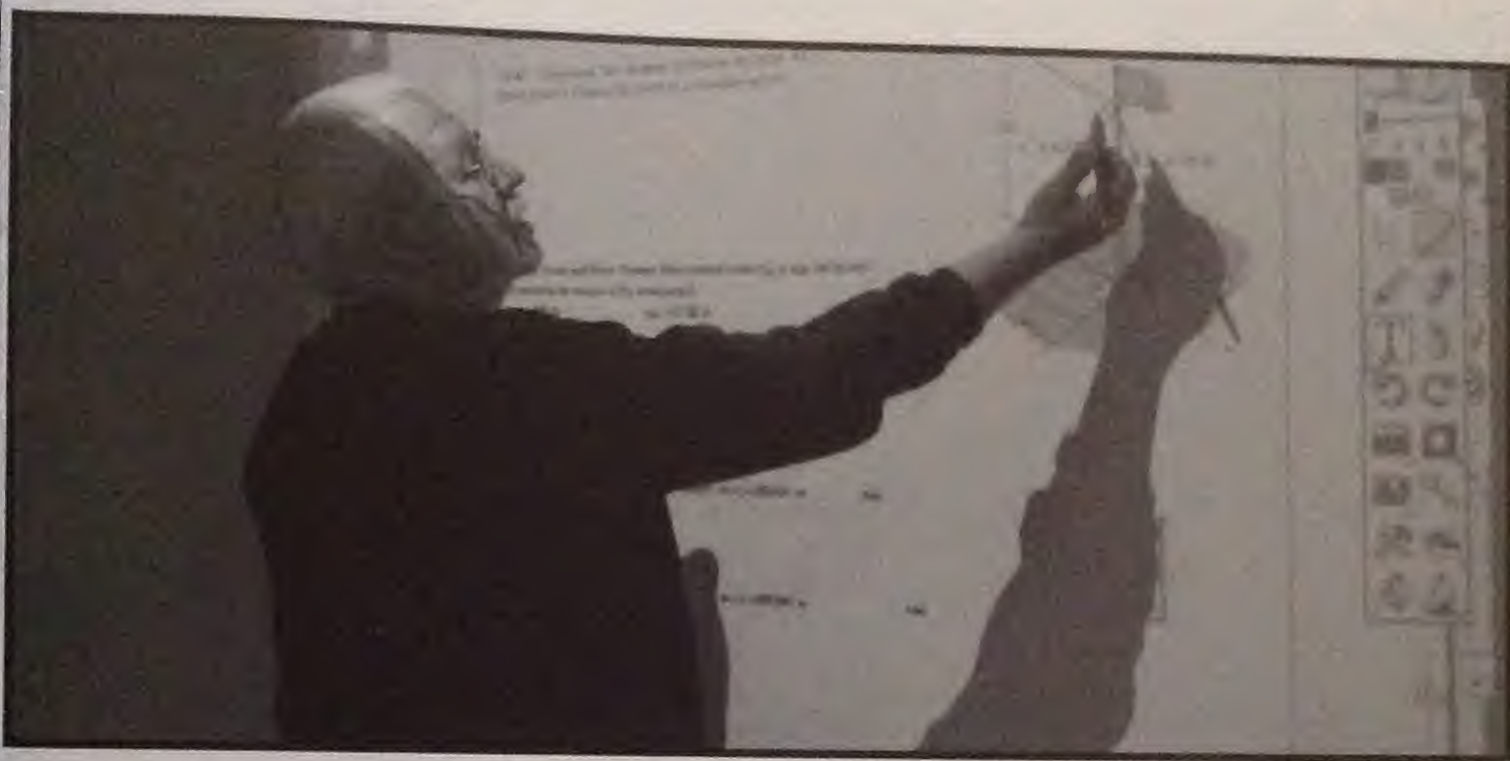

Goodman mathematics instructor Stephanie Burton goes over a problem on the promethean board.

Mathematic students at Holmes have to be computer literate for their math classes because laptops are a part of the classes. They also can go over lessons taught over the promethean board.

Physics and Engineering Physics instructor Jim Shirley integrates technology into his classroom in Goodman.

also has disadvantages. Sometimes teachers fill as though they need to learn a lot more about the promethean board, but feel like they do not have time. One other significant technological advance is the calculator. Before the calculator there was something called a slide rule, which is used primarily for multiplication and division and also for functions such as roots, logarithms and trigonometry, but is not normally used for addition or subtraction. Imagine not being able to use a calculator. Most people would not know what to do. The truth is that people in this day in time rely on technology. We use it from the time we wake till the time we go to sleep. As people of an advancing society, we cannot let technology get the best of us. Angela Miles says, "These advances in technology are a spin-off of what our society has come to."

Angela Miles is still available for one on one help for her students.

Often we believe everything that technology tells us, and often technology is wrong. Jim Shirley says, "Students believe everything technology tells them, which could be wrong." Although we are extremely dependent on technology, we should also keep in mind that technology makes mistakes and sometimes does not work properly.

Abundance of alumni return to work at Holmes

Angie Blain

Being a part of the HCC family has been very rewarding to me. I graduated from Holmes in 1985 and returned in 1989 as a Holmes Community College employee. My husband, Cham, teaches in the Engineering Technology Department for Holmes and we have two kids – Hunter and Haley.

Throughout the years, I have taken on a few different positions with Holmes. I have really enjoyed each one. I now teach in the Pre-Core Dept. on the Ridgeland Campus. If I had to make the decision again about coming to work at Holmes, I would certainly make the same one. Holmes has always and will always be a very special place for me. Many memories, both good and bad, have developed while being a Holmes' student and a Holmes' employee. I appreciate the opportunity to work for such a special place and to be able to work with such exceptional people.

Tony Moore

I graduated from Holmes in the Spring of 2006 with an Associate of Applied Sciences in Funeral Services Technology. After working several years full-time in the funeral home, a teaching position became available. I knew Holmes had an excellent program and I wanted to be a part of it. I want to be the one that helps the program to the next level. My goal is to produce students that are going to make a positive impact on the funeral industry. Therefore, when people think about funeral service education, the first thing that pops into their heads is "I have got to go to Holmes". My desire is for Holmes to be THE FUNERAL EDUCATION PLACE in Mississippi.

Katrina Boyette Myricks

Katrina Boyette Myricks returned to a familiar territory in May 1990 when you came to work at Holmes Community College.

The Durant native attended Holmes Junior College on a basketball scholarship and achieved several honors at Holmes. Some of the honors included Miss HJC, Holmes beauty, homecoming court representative, Phi Theta Kappa International Honor Society, and even hosted a jazz show on the school's radio station.

She began her career with State Farm Insurance and then Mississippi Power & Light (now Entergy), where she led training workshops targeting students in the Central Mississippi region. Impressed by her skills, Holmes Community College approached her with a job opportunity. Even though she had to think about the position, the thought of returning to Holmes as an employee was very exciting and an honor.

She is the department chair and instructor for the Business and Office Technology Program at the Ridgeland Campus. She has worked for 21 years and credits Holmes and the individuals she works with for helping her to grow as a professional in the educational arena. She stated "I'm enormously grateful to Holmes Community College and what it has done for me and what it has allowed me to accomplish. Holmes has truly provided a very solid foundation for the career I've come to love - TEACHING."

In addition Mrs. Myricks stated that the best part of coming to Holmes each day is seeing her students grow and succeed in a variety of areas. She added that success with each student is very important but defined differently based on each student and the road he or she travels. But in all, she has discovered that quality teaching is teaching that maximizes learning for all students in and out of the classroom through a variety of methods.

In asking Mrs. Myricks, what her final thoughts were regarding Holmes and teaching, she responded "Learn everything you can, anytime you can, from anyone you can." Why I asked? "There will always come a time when you will be grateful you did, because opportunity waits for no one!"

Erin Renfroe

I thoroughly enjoyed the two years that I attended Holmes Community College. While at Holmes, I met many people who are still part of my life, including my husband, Trey. I graduated from Holmes in 2000 with an Associate of Arts. I then attended Delta State University, where I received a Bachelor of Science degree in 2002. Upon completing my degree, I began teaching tenth and twelfth grade English at Yazoo County High School. I took graduate courses at night at the University of Mississippi. It was there that I completed my Master of Education degree in 2005.

After receiving my Master's degree, I worked for JBHM, an education consultant company. As an education consultant, I visited tenth grade teachers in Mississippi and Arkansas to help them prepare their students for state testing. I enjoyed my time as a consultant, however, after three years, I longed to return to the classroom.

My favorite part of teaching is getting to know my students. I still get a thrill from helping my students achieve their goals. When I help a student succeed in writing an "A" paper, I feel a small piece of the pride that the student feels. Moments like these remind me that my efforts are all worthwhile.

Joe David White

During my tenure as a student at Holmes Goodman Campus, instructors such as, Jim Shirley, Linda Bunch, and Josephine Haley Neill-Browning taught the self-confidence and the self-discipline that one needs to achieve success in life. The faculty promoted critical thinking, self-reliance, and trustworthiness as a means of success in life. After graduate school and eleven years of teaching at the secondary level, I was invited to teach at Holmes- Ridgeland. I continue to teach the same values with my additional A,B,C,& D's approach> Attitude>Belief>Commitment>Discipline> Desire which will assist the student to persevere regardless of the dilemma or the challenge that the student may face. The students today are the same as we were forty years ago, same problems, same drama, and same purpose in life.

Kana Williams

I attended Holmes Community College as a student directly upon high school graduation. I selected to attend Holmes because of the small-town feeling I immediately felt once I arrived on campus. The faculty was readily available and motivated me as a student to reach my professional goals.

My professional goals included becoming an OTA within the Holmes CC OTA program. I quickly met this goal and proceeded to further my degree at the University Of Mississippi Medical Center. When I received the call in 2008 that a position was available with my alma mater I didn't hesitate. Holmes is truly a wonderful college. I strive on a daily basis to inspire my students, much like my past Holmes instructors inspired me. I love our Holmes family and the passion I feel from my co-workers. I have so much pride for this institution and truly feel at home at Holmes.

Students return to school after tours of duty

By Toshino Rayford

How was Holmes Community College when you first attended? It was a warm welcome from my former instructors; however, returning to the civilian environment was quite challenging. How was the campus prior to deployment versus returning now? The campus administration is more organized now, for example, the financial aid process is better organized. They added the leadership class with Dr. Boyce as the instructor; which, it has been an honor and privilege to be in his class and serve as Vice President of M.O.S.A.I.C. and Student Support Services (SSS). There are new instructors that control the classroom and with more security, it ensures our safety. --Sheri Moss, who served in the U.S. Army's 82nd Airborne Division, stationed at Fort Bragg, N.C.

How was Holmes Community College when you first attended? The college was a great and the location was very convenient for me. The Grenada Center has students from all different counties. How has the campus changed from your first time experience? There are more activities and programs to participate in and the campus extended the parking lot for the increase growth in students. The college for me is still a great place to go. --Beverly Price, who was in the U.S. Army's HHC 144th BCT from Tupelo, stationed in Camp Taji, Iraq.

Grenada Center Haffey takes reins as campus VP

By John McClain, Jr.

In the June of 2010, Jack Holmes, Vice-President of Grenada Campus, retired after over 20 years of service. He will be missed. In his absence, a Holmes alumnus stepped up to take his place, Dr. Jim Haffey.

Dr. Haffey attended Holmes at the Goodman Campus, where he was a member of the Kappa Alpha Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa and later graduated. Dr. Haffey went on to Mississippi State University, where he got his bachelors, masters, and doctoral degrees.

His first year has been a great success, according to faculty, students and staff. When asked, he said, "The Grenada Campus is on track and in year one of a three year plan to take the Grenada Campus to the next level. With the help of the veterans Academic Dean Dr. Martha Cofer and Career-Technical Director Dwight Myrick things have transitioned smoothly and with very few problems."

Dr. Haffey worked at the Goodman Campus as the District Director of Financial Aid. "Holmes is the first large educational entity that I was involved with and I fell in love with it from the start." His dream was always to help lead an amazing organization like Holmes and be able to shape policies that benefit other people's lives."

"It is amazing when you have such professional people working to complete the same goals to benefit our students," Haffey said. "The administrators on campus try to teach one class per semester. Dr. Myra Harville, the night administrator, is one of the leading Psychology instructors in the state."

He himself tries to teach one Business Law class online each semester. He also states that the faculty and staff have helped him learn the ropes of his new position "The staff is very professional and I think they love what they are doing so it makes my job easier because I know that we are on the same page," he said.

The future of Holmes-Grenada is looking bright, and a new building is about to be built. Of the nine counties in the Holmes district, Madison and Attala are the only two that have had population growth in the last ten years, yet attendance has still risen at a steady pace.

"I would like to think this is because we provide an excellent product and want to continue to do so," Haffey said. We face more competition than ever with students being able to take online classes from anywhere in the world. We are aware of this and we want to make sure that our online instruction is world class, so that we do not lose a local student to some other program, because of quality, ever."

Grenada is now taking bids for this multi-million dollar building. This new building will hold classrooms and offices. "We have completed all the planning and Grenada County has stepped up and provided funding for 75% of the new facility. We are building the project through the state Bureau of Buildings and that involved a lot of coordination between the school, the architectural firm, and the Bureau."

With a new building comes new programs. Holmes hopes to add a physical therapy assistant program.

"A program like this will draw students from great distances to take part in these programs," he said. "We already have students driving from Canton to take part in our evening nursing classes.

"This is great for the school and it can only get better. Our partnership with Ole Miss has already helped attract more students."

Haffey sees being vice-president of Holmes-Grenada as a great responsibility. "I think at the end of your career, the most important thing is the relationships that you made," he said. "Being a Vice President at a college affords you the opportunity to affect a lot of lives in a positive or negative way."

The next five years they hope to see a small but sustained growth in the traditional classes and with the new building, staff, and faculty they are prepared for the future. Holmes is the place to be: great classes, great teachers, great faculty, and the best community college experience you could ask for.

Science Building, parking lots added

Two major highlights for the Ridgeland Campus during the 2010-11 school year was the opening of the science building east and the addition of another parking lot on the north side of campus.

Recently completed is a 14,000 square foot state of the art science building. This building will have additional classrooms, a suite of offices for instructors and state of the art labs.

Due to a continued increase in enrollment, additional parking has been added in the northwest corner of the campus. The lot will have enough parking for 350 additional vehicles.

Dr. Glenn F. Boyce

The 2010-11 school marked the sixth year Dr. Glenn F. Boyce has served as the president.

During the year, Boyce continued making improvements to every realm of the college. He also continued his leadership class with several officers of clubs and organizations at the college. He also took on a new role with the state being named the chair of performance and accountability.

Dr. Boyce, a native of New York, received his doctorate degree from the University of Mississippi in educational leadership. He holds a master's degree from Mississippi College in educational administration and a bachelor's degree from University of Mississippi in education with an emphasis in social sciences.

Prior to coming to Holmes, he served as assistant superintendent of the Rankin County School District as well as the principal of Northwest Rankin Attendance Center. He also taught and coaches at several MAIS schools.

Eventually his career in education led him to Holmes Community College where he initially served as the Vice President for Community and Workforce Development on the Ridgeland Campus. In 2005-06, Dr. Boyce served as Interim President and was named President of Holmes Community College in March 2006.

Graduation 2010

Retiring Grenada Center Vice President Jack Holmes served as graduating speaker for the 2010 Graduation exercises at Holmes Community College.

Holmes compared the Holmes Junior College he knew in 1952 to the one he was retiring from in 2010. He told students in 1952 there were 200 students on the Goodman Campus and in 2010 there were 6,581 students plus 13,885 in workforce training. He also compared expenses and said dorm students were charged $161.50.

He said he and other students got along just fine without TV, computers and cell phones. "You have had computers available to you with internet connection that opens up a store house of knowledge that was unavailable to us," Holmes said. "You are fortunate to have attended a college that has embraced technology and has made every effort to provide you with cutting edge technology in the classroom and laboratories."

Holmes told students of successes on the athletic fields, in the classroom and in the workplace. He recognized some of his fellow Holmes alumni who have gone on to have successful careers.

"These friends of mine mentioned above are good examples of high caliber successful graduates who have gone before you," Holmes said.

"They are just average people who have found success in life."

He told the graduates they must have goals, action plans and a good set of values. He received his from the Marine Corps, consisting of honor, courage and commitment.

"Graduates, as we bid you farewell and as you continue your education or go into the world of work, do so with the confidence and knowledge that you are as well prepared as anyone at this stage of your career," said Holmes.

Bulldogs have rough season going 0-9

The Holmes Community College Bulldogs had a rough season this year going 0-9 overall and 0-6 in the North Division.

In the division games, the results were: Coahoma, 14-41; Northeast, 20-35; Mississippi Delta, 7-34; Itawamba, 20-33; Northwest, 13-38; and East Mississippi, 14-38.

In the non-division games, the Bulldogs fell to Southwest, 20-21; Co-Lin, 9-28 and Jones, 6-24.

Offensively, the Bulldogs were led at quarterback by W.J. McAllister who was 84-of-174 for 1003 yards, seven touchdowns and 10 interceptions. Harry Peoples was the leading Bulldog receiver with 35 catches for 380 yards and two touchdowns. LaSean Williams had three touchdown receptions while Johnny Thurmon and J.J. Thurman each had one.

Rushing the Bulldogs were led by McAllister with 280 yards on 109 carries. Peoples led the Bulldogs in touchdowns with four. He had 236 yards on 60 carries. Kyle Warren also added a touchdown.

The Bulldogs team made history this season when 60-year-old Alan Moore joined the team. When scrolling down the 2010 Holmes Community College football roster chances are you would never have any reason to stop at No. 80 other than to say he's a sophomore placekicker from Taylorsville.

Moore, who played his freshman year at Jones County Junior College in Fall 1968 as placekicker, is the oldest person ever to play football in the National Junior College Athletic Association.

Moore only got a year in at Jones before heading off to Vietnam War in Dec. 1968. He served with the Infantry working in short and long range reconnaissance. He and 11 guys from his unit were in Vietnam 11 months, 28 days.

After returning home, he went into the construction business and served as a superintendent until Jan. 2009 when he was laid off from work. He came to Mississippi in Fall 2009 to visit his grandkids, and he watched Jones for the first time play football in Fulton at Itawamba Community College. He purchased footballs from Dick Sporting Goods and square-toed kicking shoes from Foot Locker and built goal posts in his daughter's yard for practice.

During the season, he missed a 30-yard field goal but made history when he made an extra point against Itawamba at Homecoming.

"I want to thank all my teammates for accepting me on the team and for all the respect they have shown me," he said. Four Bulldogs received postseason honors. Harry Peoples was named All-Region, All-State return specialist and Second Team All-State Wide Receiver. Dewon Cherrington was named Second Team All-State Defensive Line and Drew Dennis was named Second Team All-State Linebacker. Dennis, Peoples and Tanner Roberts participated in the MACJC All Star Game.

Colophon

Holmes Community College's 2010-11 Horizons, Volume 82, consists of 224 pages on a 7x12 trim size format. The book contains 100# enamel paper and Smyth binding. It has one signature of color and the remaining pages are black and white.

The 1,750 copies of the book were printed at Balfour Yearbooks in Dallas. Our Balfour Taylor sales representative was Karen Loden. The in-plant account executive was Milani Arguelles.

The hard lithocote cover reflects our theme this year, "Paws in Time."

The 2010 spring yearbook

class developed the theme for this year's book while Melissa Love designed the cover. District Director of Communications Steve Diffey did the layout on the inside of the book along with Communications Staff Writer/Photographer Courtney Lange.

All pages were composed on Dell computer using Adobe CS5 and StudioWorks. Font used was Times.

Portrait Images were taken by Southern School Images, whose headquarters are located in Jackson.

Colophon

I can't believe the 2010-11 school year has flown by so quickly. Lots of things have happened during this school year, and we have taken the events of the year and compiled them into a yearbook, one in which you can be proud.

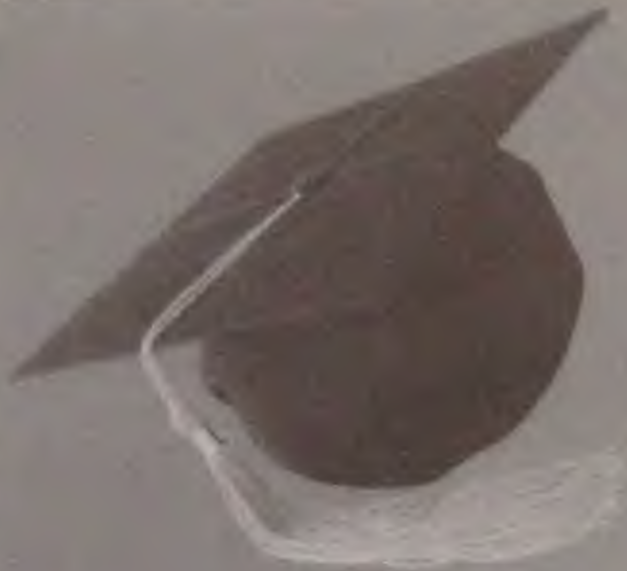

The opening stories let you know the types of people we have here at Holmes, ones who care tremendously for the college. Each section dissects the campuses and lets you know who is a part of the Holmes family.

We have called on our yearbook staffs from both fall and spring to take pictures and write articles for this publication. We have also gone to into the district to ask teachers and students to provide us with content for the book as well. If you have been one of those who have done so, I greatly appreciate it.

If you are interested in being a part of our staff, please register for Yearbook I-IV. We can use students with writing, photography and other creative skills. Noelle Granger, Kelsey Wiggins, Madison Huse, Kandace McDaniel and Christina Palmertree will be the editors of the 2012 yearbook. Please direct yearbook questions to Steve Diffey at (662) 472-9068 or sdiffey@holmescc.edu.
